It has been an eventful and unprecedented year here at the Cook Museum of Natural Science. As we opened the year in January and February, we were still feeling the effects of the pandemic, especially due to the absence of weekday visits from schools to experience field trips and education classes.

However, the month of March saw a marked increase in guests, with local, regional, and national visitors enjoying all the Museum had to offer.

Following those great crowds, corresponding to the Spring Break vacations, another wonderful bit of news came to us - schools would resume field trips. For the balance of the school year, the Exhibits and classrooms of the Museum were filled with students of all ages. They seemed so happy to be getting off campus again and especially thrilled to be at the Cook Museum of Natural Science! As the year progressed to summer, the visitors returned in full force.

Within this annual report, you will see in great detail the new and expanded offerings in programs, classes, and experiences that met our guests. In addition to our typical summer guests, the schools were engaged in enrichment activities for a much larger number of students following the difficult previous school year.

The Museum hosted numerous weekly summer field trips to play a vital role in engaging, exciting, and educating students in the region. The activity level did not diminish as the Museum headed into fall and the holidays.

Field trips, classes, event space rentals, the Museum Store, and Nature's Table sales all exceeded expectations leading to the busiest November and December for the Museum since Grand Opening.

Looking back, none of this would have been possible without the incredible support of our guests, staff, Members, Donors, Executive Board, and Advisory Board.

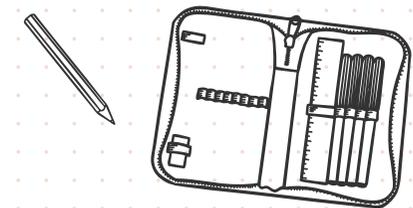

The Museum is also thankful for the support of the great entities such as the Decatur Morgan County Chamber of Commerce, Decatur Morgan Tourism, Decatur Downtown Redevelopment Authority, Alabama Mountain Lakes Tourist Association, and the Alabama Tourism Department. These wonderful organizations hit the ground running every morning thinking of ways to drive more interest in our area.

The Museum has always viewed itself as part of the community and region, trying to do our part in educating, in drawing visitors, and providing an economic boost. The trying times over these past two years have solidified the idea that we are all in this together and that together we will get through it and thrive.

Thanks again for the support and we look forward to a great 2022!

EDUCATION

Food Science Camp

The Cook Museum of Natural Science offers interactive, hands-on education about the observable natural world.

By creating and implementing curriculum that contain lifescience, Earth science, and physical science, the Museum works to enhance and encourage scientific learning in our community.

EDUCATION CLASSROOMS

- ✦ The Salamander Classroom is where younger students are introduced to live animals, take part in fun crafts, and study shapes, patterns, and colors in nature in this bright and exciting classroom.
- ✦ Maker Space is designed to help upper elementary and middle school students use the concept of biomimicry: using science and STEAM concepts to creatively solve a problem.
- ✦ The Adventure Lab is designed for middle and high school-aged students to get a full hands-on experience with more in-depth science topics like anatomy through dissections and chemistry by performing experiments.

ADDING TO OUR RESOURCES

In 2021, the Cook Museum introduced 2 new accessibility resources that are available online on the Museum’s website and onsite at the Guest Services Desk.

✧ Cook Museum’s Social Story provides an illustrated, step-by-step guide on what to expect during a visit to the Museum.

✧ Cook Museum’s Visual Vocabulary can be used to get a sense of what to expect, introduce new vocabulary, and plan out what to see at the Museum.

ADDING TO OUR PROGRAMS

Sensory Friendly Hours: Children and their families were able to explore the Cook Museum at their own pace with additional sensory-based activities available in the Exhibits.

For this event, the Museum, in partnership with the Regional Autism Network, aimed to provide a relaxed environment for individuals with autism and other sensory or communication needs.

Sounds were lowered, crowds were limited, and a designated quiet room was available.

ANIMAL CARE

EXPANDING OUR CARE

The United States Fish and Wildlife Service called on the Cook Museum to temporarily house confiscated animals on 2 separate occasions in 2021: confiscated insects in July and reptiles in October.

This is a great achievement and honor to be recognized as a facility they can call upon, due to the work the staff has done and the permits that were obtained.

INSPECTION SUCCESS

Animal Care is a USDA permitted area due to some insects in the Museum's care that are nonnative. Museum staff takes a lot of precautions to ensure those insects stay in and other insects stay out.

In order to keep these insects and permits, USDA inspects Museum facilities to ensure all appropriate measures are being taken.

In April 2021, the Museum had its first inspection since 2018. This was a big step for Animal Care staff since it was the first inspection with live insects in the Museum's care, and it went very smoothly!

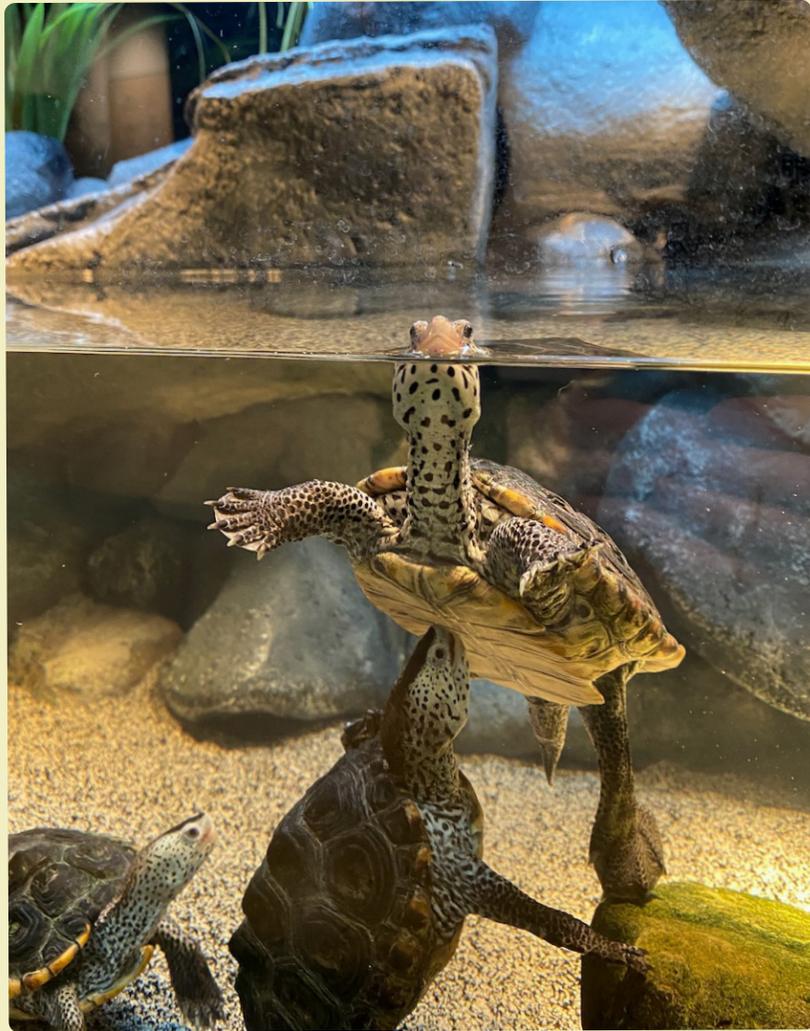

CARING FOR KALE

In 2021, Kale, the Kemp's ridley sea turtle, continued to brighten the faces of visitors to the Museum.

Kale's experiences, prior to coming to the Cook Museum, make him a non-releasable sea turtle that needs ongoing care and attention by Animal Care personnel and our veterinarian to help him maintain proper health.

DIAMONDBACK TERRAPIN EXCHANGE

Through the Museum's partnership with University of Alabama at Birmingham, Animal Care staff are able to rear their diamondback terrapins until they are mature enough to release back into the wild.

In 2021, Animal Care exchanged the Museum's matured terrapins for adolescents once again.

FIRST HONEY HARVEST

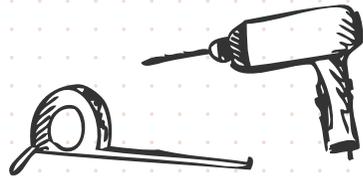

In August 2021, Animal Care staff harvested honey from the external beehives in Hartselle for the first time! This truly shows the progress made with the bees.

This success was shared with the Museum staff as everyone received a sample cup of honey!

- ✦ First Floor Lobby: A Bird House Photo Op was constructed.
- ✦ Second Floor Lobby: Mechanics of Nature was installed, artwork by Sloane Bibb and sponsored by Pam & Joe Alexander.
- ✦ Offsite: Moving Water, a Cook Museum traveling display, was shown at two locations - Oakville Indian Mounds Education Center and the Guntersville Museum.
